Comprehensive Medical Technologies

The ultimate goal of Leis Partners is to produce complete orthopedic sets — technologies and services that will change the way suppliers do business in the future.

The combination and diversity of companies affiliated with Leis Partners will present the opportunity and advantage of integrated service and products with the goal of reducing lead-times, costs and improving services to all customers.

The Sum Is Greater Than Its Individual Parts

- A.F. Leis - Custom machining of both instruments and implants for medical disciplines including hip, knee, shoulder, spinal and arthroscopy.
- Boss Instruments Ltd - Manufacturer and international distributor of German handcrafted instruments specializing in the Spinal, Neuro, Orthopedic, ENT, OB/GYN and Vascular markets.
- Brighton Partners - State-of-the-art producer of compression-molded polyethylene for the medical device industry.
- Carr Metal - Leader in delivery systems — servicing metal, plastic, hybrid and container needs to the medical industry.
- MDTI - Medical Device Testing and Innovations provides product testing and consulting services by Dr. Stephen Li.
- NG Instruments - State-of-the-art producer of drill bits and taps for the medical device industry.
- Powder Alloy Corporation - Manufacturer of powder and spherical metals for use in porous coating and injection molding.

Leis Partners — We are more than an instrument and case and tray job shop trying to fill instrument sets. Leis Partners is raising the bar for suppliers and innovating the supply chain by being the experts and having the resources available to completely solve issues on both the implant and the instrument side.

Background

In 2001, Leis Partners was created to build a new supplier organization for the orthopedic and medical community.

As the industry moves more toward consolidated supplier/vendor bases, Leis Partners is moving ahead to become the premier supplier source for the major orthopedic and medical companies.

Overall, Leis Partners can be characterized as an aggressive comprehensive out-source marketing and sales organization with a myriad of products, services, technologies and expertise for the medical and orthopedic industry.

Leis Partners differentiation in the marketplace consists of relationships, quality partners, widest spectrum of product/services offering and the bundling of those products and services.
