Near & Near Net Forging and Precision Machining

At PMP we do more than produce the world's finest forged and machined orthopedic implants. We listen.

There are many suppliers to the orthopedic industry. What separates the elite few from the rest is the level of commitment and service they provide to their customers. For that reason, we take extraordinary efforts to understand what our customers want as well as when and how they want it.

Our senior management team is accessible to every level of our customer's organization at all times. In addition to our factory in Southern California, we maintain a Customer Service Center in New Jersey. We are there whenever and wherever you need us.

Join the growing number of companies that have made PMP an integral part of their orthopedic implant team. Call or email Tom Cash, PMP President and CEO, and discover the Precision Metal Products difference.
